

CraftSanity

craftsanity.com

Jennifer Ackerman-Haywood | jennifer@craftsanity.com

Turkey Bread Basket

This is a staple at my parents house. My mom always keeps the rolls warm in a the basket she fashioned into a turkey using wooden spoon, feathers made of magazine pages and wooden skewers. Here's how to make one of you own:

Supplies:

Basket big enough to hold dinner rolls, wooden spoon, 24 wooden skewers, 24 feather shapes (proportioned to fit your basket) cut from magazines, 24 slightly larger feather shapes cut from construction paper, clear drying craft glue, piece of 2" thick floral foam cut to fit inside the bottom of basket, two googly eyes, yellow felt scrap for beak, and red felt scrap for wattle

- 1) Fit floral foam inside basket. Glue turkey face to back of wooden spoon. Set aside to dry.
- 2) Make the feathers by centering skewers between a piece of construction paper and a magazine page. Set aside to dry.
- 3) Poke the wooden spoon into foam at the very front of the basket and arrange the feathers, poking them into the foam along the back of the basket. To use, place a cloth napkin or hand towel inside the basket, place rolls, then cover with the fabric to keep the bread warm.

